RE: SEMINAR ON DISTANCE LEARNING

Dear TOM BAKER,

I think I will be able to inform them of the project once we have something definite to propose to them. I will therefore contact them for that purpose. However, if you want to know them personally now, I have no objection to your contacting them directly.

Let me know of the progress of the planning so we can start contacting possible participants.

Best regards.

Sincerely,

Prof. Dr. Ruben C. Umaly
Director, Center for International Affairs

Dear Prof. Dr. Umaly,

Many thanks for your letter about potential participants from Japan.

One question: Would you like for me to contact Prof. Nakamura and UNU directly, or do you prefer to initiate contact yourself? If it is convenient for you, I am quite willing to do this.

Best regards,
Dr. Thomas Baker

Our Japanese university partner in the APDMEN (Asia-Pacific Distance and Multimedia Education Network) is Bunkyo University in Tokyo. We will most likely involve also the United Nations University since we have been working with them and you had the linkage with them during the Tokyo UNESCO Regional Conference on Higher Education.

The co-secretariat of APDMEN is at Bunkyo University and the person responsible is::

Dear Dr. Umaly,

It was a pleasure to see you again at AIT last week. We are most enthusiastic about the prospects of holding a two-day seminar on distance learning next year, especially now that Dr. Wichit has expressed his support and encouragement.

Dr. Wichit suggested we get a Japanese university involved in this seminar. Might I seek your advice on whom we should contact? Names of specific contact persons would be particularly helpful.

I am very much looking forward to your input. Please do not hesitate to contact me with suggestions or ideas. I will keep you informed as the plans take shape.

Many thanks,
Thomas Baker

/ Dear Ruben,

Just a short note to point out that there may be a technical problem with email regarding the upcoming APDMEN meeting (see attached note). I also sent a note to Ryu yesterday.

Have we set a specific time? And to whom should we regarding hotel details and such? I will be in Japan all next week, and when I return I will have just twelve days to finalize my arrangements.

I am very much looking forward to seeing you again in Tasmania.

Best regards,
Tom Baker
